Timetable of the Seminar

8:00 – 8:20 Registration and Networking

8:30 – 9:15 Sally Ann Forsyth

As CEO of Norwich Research Park, Sally Ann has been responsible for developing Norwich Research Park to become a leading centre for research in Europe. Sally Ann holds a PhD from Cambridge University and has a successful career in corporate and SME environments. Sally Ann will share with us her story of how she has progressed her career, the lessons learnt along the way and her view on what it takes to reach the boardroom.

9:15 – 9:30 Break for breakfast and networking

9:30 – 11:00 Employment Law Update

Oliver and Eleanor will give us an insightful and action packed summary of recent employment law changes and what impact that might have on your business and HR practice. The session will look specifically at what changes will impact organisations in Cambridgeshire and the measures an organisation can take to prepare for the change. As part of the update we will be looking specifically at Discrimination case law.

About our Speakers

Oliver Pryke

For many years Oliver has been recognised by the Chambers and Partners and Legal 500 directories as one of the top rated employment lawyers in the East of England. In their most recent editions he is described by Chambers as being “renowned for his quietly authoritative yet hugely pragmatic approach”.

Eleanor Freeman

Listed as a leader in her field in both the Chambers and Partners and Legal 500 directories, Eleanor has been described by clients as a “dazzlingly able lawyer” whose previous business career - as an International Rights Manager for global publisher Dorling Kindersley- enables her to give advice with a commercial edge.

Sally Ann Forsyth

Appointed in September 2013, Dr Forsyth’s role is to lead on developments and take the organisation’s strategic vision forward to become Europe’s leading centre for research in food, health and the environment.

Prior to joining Norwich Research Park, Sally Ann was Director of Science Parks for International Property Group Goodman, where she was responsible for the strategic direction, management and performance of Goodman’s Science Park portfolio with an active role as Director for Colworth Park, Bedfordshire and Harwell Oxford, Oxfordshire.

Her career started with Unilever as a management trainee and covered a range of roles including internal consultant with postings in Africa and Asia, Head of Technology Licensing and finally Principle with Unilever Ventures working on technology spin-outs and investments.

Sally Ann holds an MPhil in Plant Breeding and PhD in plant molecular biology both from the University of Cambridge. She is a qualified Chartered Global Management Accountant and is a Board member of the UK Science Park Association.
